Guided tour: Sustainable Industry

Thursday, 26 March 2020 | language: English |

According to the IEA, almost a quarter of global direct CO2 emissions comes from the industry sector. Which processes actually cause such emissions and how can we reduce or even eliminate them? To get an understanding of what can and needs to be done, we will visit highly efficient industrial sites, as well as sectors that are just at the beginning of the road ahead.

Please note: Due to safety reasons, some sites can only be visited with flat and sturdy shoes.

Changeable weather conditions require weatherproof clothing. Filming and photography are not allowed unless otherwise indicated at the site.
